FICTIONAL UNIVERSITY POLICY / 2026-2027

Examination Guidelines

Eligibility, assessment, and exam-day conduct

Fictional example

Meridian Example University is fictional. These examination guidelines are fictional CampusRAG examples and are not official policies of DTU or any real university. They apply to the example 2026-2027 academic year.

Examination eligibility

Students must complete course registration and satisfy the attendance eligibility rules before taking an end-semester examination. The separate Attendance Guidelines state the attendance threshold.

Assessment weights

For a standard theory course, internal assessment contributes 40% and the end-semester examination contributes 60% of the final course score. Practical courses may use a separately published assessment scheme.

Exam-day requirements

Students must carry their university identity card and examination admit card. Students should arrive 30 minutes before the scheduled start. Mobile phones, smartwatches, and unauthorized notes are prohibited in the examination room.

Examination Guidelines

Results, re-evaluation, and missed examinations

Re-evaluation deadline

A request for re-evaluation must be submitted through the student portal within seven calendar days of publication of the examination result. The request must identify the course code and the assessment to be reviewed. This example document does not state a re-evaluation fee.

Missed examinations

A student who misses an examination because of a documented emergency must contact the examination office within three working days. A make-up examination requires written approval; approval is not automatic.

Example examination dates

For the fictional autumn 2026 semester, the end-semester examination period runs from 7 December 2026 to 18 December 2026. Individual course dates are published in the examination timetable.

Academic integrity

Suspected misconduct is referred to the academic integrity committee. Students receive an opportunity to respond before a final decision. This document does not prescribe a fixed penalty for every type of misconduct.
